How I have changed through lockdown

Think about the ways in which you have changed and grown as a person. Not just grown in size but in your mind too.

What skills have you learned in lockdown?

What goals did you achieve?

Have you improved your relationship with a sibling?

Have you finished a million levels on your game?

Did you read anything that changed the way you think?

Did you experience anything that has changed the way you see the world?

Anything you can think of that has brought about a change in yourself can be discussed/shared through this task.

And you can complete it in any way you wish.

See the left side of the page for ideas.
