

Lockdown Podcast

This could be a solo, pair or group project.

You will need:

- A basic idea of what you will talk about written down (this could be detailed notes or a full script)
Possible themes:
 - Lockdown positives and negatives
 - Recommendations from lockdown (TV shows, outdoor activities, books, games etc)
 - How Covid-19 changed the world
 - The rules of lockdown 2020/21 and how it changed people's lives
- Enough to talk about for a minimum of 5 minutes
- A name for your podcast (could be a clever/funny name or just a basic 'A podcast with...')
- A quiet space to record your final podcast (use voice memos on a newer iPad for this)

You could:

- Have one or two hosts that bring in special guests to discuss your theme around the lockdown/global pandemic
- Interview people and teachers before your podcast and write down their responses to tell people about on a solo podcast or discuss on a pair podcast
- Give a detailed outline of your own personal experience of the past year - highs, lows and everything in between
- Have short segments on different aspects of the lockdown/global pandemic with jokes/adverts/jingles in between

These are just ideas. Your ideas may be much better than this, you can do your own thing if you think you have a better idea - but it does need to be linked to the past year.

You may want to go above and beyond by:

- Using musical instruments to create a short, catchy jingle to start and end your podcast
- Creating an A5 advert describing your podcast and why people should listen
- Do more than one podcast to start a series
